There are fifteen applications from Fairfield for location in the town of Fairfield.

Some hand-some benches have been received for the waiting room at the passenger depot.

Both banks will be closed all day Thursday. Paper maturing on that day must be paid.

Major Pagan gives the information that the total rainfall here, Sunday night and Monday morning, was 1.1-1.9 inches.

Thursday being a national holiday, the post office will be kept open for one half hour only after the opening of each mail.

Mr. U. C. Parlow, who has been buying cotton at this market for R. T. Fawell & Co., has returned to his home in Rock Hill.

The cold weather has been a long time coming, but it is here at last. Water was frozen Tuesday night for the first time this winter.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Gordon Light Infantry was held Monday night in the Armory. Only routine business was transacted.

Prof. W. H. Withers went to Chester Friday afternoon for the purpose of attending to some business relative to the Masonic fraternity.

Judge Fraser and a number of members of the bar were handsomely entertained by Mr. E. B. Ragsdale at his residence on last Friday evening.

The Rev. C. E. McDowell preached a very fine sermon to quite a large congregation at the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church on Sunday last.

One of the rooms in the bank building adjoining the cotton office of Crosby & Cureton, has been fitted up, and will be used as a barber shop.

Mr. W. K. McCarter's tame (2) fox bit him on the leg, a day or two ago, and indicated a very severe wound from which he has been suffering considerably.

On the fifth Sunday in this month, the Rev. R. P. Smith will hold a communion meeting at Salem Church. Preparatory services will commence at 11 a. m. Saturday.

At Macaulay & Turner's you can get solid value for your money, that you can depend on. They have in stock, shoes, hats, dry goods, etc. See their new advertisement.

Mr. S. G. Harden, of this county, has resigned his position as tutor in the Presbyterian College at Clinton, S. C., and has accepted a position as book-keeper under Mr. Henry Harden, in Gadsden, Alabama.

Our colored firemen returned from the Augusta tournament last Friday evening, but it was their misfortune not to be "in it" as far as winning any of the prizes offered was concerned. They made a gallant fight at any rate.

Mr. Ed. Hanahan has accepted a position with the Southern Express Company, and is running between Charleston and Bennettsville. Mr. John Crawford has accepted a similar position, and his run is between Charlotte and Augusta.

Mr. Doug received a telegram Monday from the manager of Sm's Phantasma, stating that it was impossible for his company to reach here in time to fill their engagement last night. The company will play here on the 4th day of December.

The teachers of Fairfield should enter heart and soul into the reorganization of the County Teacher's Association. An organization of this kind, properly managed, and in which the proper amount of interest is manifested, would be of incalculable benefit to our teachers.

This is about the first time since the building of the railroad through here that newspapers, published in Charleston and Columbia, have to be sent here via Chester in order to be received at a reasonable hour. This is by no means the only disadvantage arising from the new schedule. It is, in a great many other respects, most inconvenient.

H. G. Moler, the man who was arrested the other night upon the charge of larceny, was given a preliminary hearing Friday morning before Trial Justice Cathcart. He was recommended to jail, failing to give bond, to await trial at the February term of Court. The indictment against him is for house breaking and larceny.

A meeting of the Town Council was held Thursday afternoon. A petition, signed by a number of the citizens of town, requesting that the Council order an election to decide whether or not the town should issue licenses for the sale of liquor, was received. The election was ordered and as will be seen by the notice in another column, is to be held on Monday the 7th day of December.

We have heard of late many complaints in regard to gates which open at night. A gentleman was going home Thursday night, and as it was very dark came in contact with a gate which was stretched entirely across the street, and he came near being badly hurt. There is a law which requires that all gates should be hung on the inside, and not so that when open they obstruct the sidewalk.

The change of schedule of the north-bound passenger train has caused a great deal of "mixing" here. We have always been accustomed to having both of the passenger trains arrive at a very reasonable hour, and probably we have become a little spoiled, but not being able to receive papers published in Columbia, only three-five miles away, until 7 o'clock p. m. on the day of publication, is something which our people are perfectly justified in becoming indignant at. We learn that an attempt will be made to obtain permission from the postoffice department to have a local mail service on the train which passes here at 3:08 a. m. This would of course be of great convenience to us as we would then have two mail trains going south every day.

On Sunday the office will be kept open one half hour after the opening of each mail.

ALMA HEARNE AT THE OPERA HOUSE.
—On Monday and Tuesday nights the Bijou Theatre Company presented "The Little Duchess" and "A Noble Outcast," two very taking plays on the light comedy drama order. The cast of characters on both occasions was good and the audience, especially on Tuesday night, kept in a continual roar of laughter. Miss Alma Hearne, the star of the troupe, is a charming little subterfuge of more than ordinary ability. In the character of Lura, the rousing girl of seventeen, she was good, and as Nana Lee, a character requiring a little more dexterity, charmed the audience. There is one thing however which detracted from the performance and that was the music. The performer was an exceptionally good one, but the piano tones could not describe the horrible discord issues from it when played upon; the more skillful the performer the more terrible the discord. Manager Bog manages the Opera House very well but he ought to get another piano or have this one tuned.

PERSONALS.
Geo. S. Mower, Esq., of Newberry, was in town Monday on professional business.

Mr. Charlie Gaillard, who is traveling for the Southern Oil Company of Columbia, spent several days in town last week with Mr. W. R. Girardeau.

Mrs. M. A. Gaillard left Wednesday for Sullivan's Island, where she will reside in future with her son Mr. W. D. Gaillard.

Ex-Sheriff Glenn, now a member of the Legislature, from York County, was in town Monday accompanied by Mrs. Allison, also of York. They were the guests of Mr. W. H. Williams while in town.

AN ENJOYABLE GERMAN.
A very pleasant German was given by the (Hub Wednesday night, complimentary to the visiting young ladies. The following couples were in attendance:
Miss Susie Doty with M. Robinson, Miss Lillian Walker with A. G. Douglas, Miss Susie Ketchin with M. W. Doty, Miss Lillian Ketchin with C. A. Stevenson, Miss Alma McDowell with D. Elliott, Miss Lou McElver with W. G. White, Miss Lill Caldwell with J. L. Deany, Miss Lizzie Gerig with D. G. Dwight, Miss Laura Gerig with W. Egleston. Several gentlemen were present without partners.

CRAWFORD-MORLEY.
At Blackstock, Wednesday afternoon Mr. David A. Crawford, of this place, was married to Miss Sue Mobley, a daughter of Mr. Ed. D. Mobley, who lives near Blackstock. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate relations of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. White. The newly married couple will accept the very best wishes of THE NEWS AND HERALD.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.
Tuesday
Court convened at the usual hour, and the arguments in the case of Davis-Caldwell et al. were resumed, at the conclusion of which the case was placed in the hands of the jury. The verdict rendered was for the plaintiff, Winnie Davis, and gave her $17,145.00. The next case was that of Wm. Marlow vs. Robert Aiken et al., but at the conclusion of the case it had not been decided.

Wednesday.
Court convened at 9:30 a. m., and the arguments in the case of Wm. Marlow vs. Robert Aiken et al. were resumed. The jury in this case having deliberated for several hours without arriving at any decision Judge Fraser ordered a mistrial. Counsel for the plaintiffs, Ragsdale & Ragsdale, for defendant, McDonald, Douglas & Obar.

The next case taken up was that of Robert Crawford et al. vs. Obar & Stewart. Counsel for plaintiff, H. A. Gaillard and H. N. Obar; for defendant, Ragsdale & Ragsdale. Verdict not rendered at the time of going to press.

Thursday.
Immediately after the convening of Court Friday morning the jury in the case of Robert Crawford et al. vs. Obar & Stewart Stone Co. returned a sealed verdict which gave the plaintiff $230. The case of George White, Executor, vs. J. A. Stark et al. Report of J. A. Stark, decretal order. H. N. Obar counsel for plaintiff, McDonald & Douglas for defendants.

The above was followed by the case of Robert W. Hollis vs. Hiram Hollis. Testimony read and arguments heard. A. S. & W. D. Douglas for defendant, H. N. Obar for plaintiff.

The last case on Thursday was that of Mary Rains vs. Arthur Williams; appeal from Trial Justice Court. Ragsdale & Ragsdale for appellant, McDonald and Obar for respondent.

Order of reference signed in case of T. W. Mellichamp.

Friday.
Court convened at the usual hour Friday morning. His Honor rendered a decree in favor of the defendant in the case of Hollis vs. Hollis. The Court was engaged all day Friday in hearing arguments in the case of Giles J. Patterson vs. Cassandra H. Rabb and Thomas W. Rabb, trustee. A. S. & W. D. Douglas for plaintiff, Ragsdale & Ragsdale for defendants. Arguments to be concluded today.

Saturday.
The case of Giles J. Patterson vs. Cassandra H. Rabb was concluded, but his Honor reserved his decision in the case.

The only other case taken up was that of Caldwell, Executor, vs. Winnie Davis. The plaintiff was represented by Sanders, Hanahan & Cathcart, the defendant, by McDonald, Douglas & Obar. Decision reserved.

Monday.
The attention of the Court was occupied all day Monday, in hearing the case of J. S. J. Suber vs. Mary J. Blair et al. Ragsdale & Ragsdale for plaintiff; G. S. Mower, J. G. McCants, H. A. Gaillard, J. W. Hanahan, H. N. Obar, for various defendants.

A CROOK CAPTURED.
Last Friday H. Moler, claiming to come from Cleveland Ohio, registered at the Winnsboro Hotel. He has now changed his boarding house and is now a guest of the County, being entertained by Sheriff Milling. His change of hostelry is accounted for in the following manner:
At the time of his arrival he was either sick or pretended to be and was very kindly treated by the host and hostess at the hotel, and Dr. J. R. McMaster, Jr., was called in to attend him. He remained in his room until about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night when Mr. Stevenson noticed him leaving his room with his valise in his hand, and knowing that no train was then due followed him, but the man succeeded in eluding him for a long time. Moler turned up shortly however and offered to settle his bill, but when it was presented him, said that he hadn't money to pay it all, so that the proprietor containing himself with what he could get, let him go. A few minutes after Mr. Fred Turner made the discovery that he was a coat snifter. Suspicion immediately rested on Moler, and after searching for some time, he was found at the depot dressed in Mr. Turner's "best suit of clothes" waiting to take the train. A policeman requested him not to hurry off, at the same time offering him board at Millings hotel. He accepted and is now, if he hasn't been "liberated on bail," in the county jail.

Animals caught and horses and all items buried in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Service. This never fails. Sold by W. E. Aiken, Druggist, Winnsboro, S. C.

THE BLUMENBERG CONCERT.
The people of Winnsboro are very rarely granted the opportunity of hearing such music as that rendered Friday evening by the artists composing the Blumenberg Concert Company. The audience was rather small, but thoroughly appreciative, demonstrating its enthusiasm by the most hearty applause at the conclusion of each number on the program.

Mr. Blumenberg's performance on the violin was a revelation. His first number, "A Hungarian Caprice," was executed in a style which we can safely say cannot be surpassed, and "The Last Rose of Summer," rendered as an encore, was simply grand. In the rendition of all of his selections, he fully sustained his reputation as a great violinist.

Mr. Torrence has a baritone voice of wonderful strength and sweetness which he showed off to perfection in the solos, "Queen of the Earth," and the "Yeoman's Wedding Song," and in duet with Miss Reynolds.

Miss Berger, the cornet virtuoso, displayed in all her playing unsurpassed delicacy of style, and wonderful power and proved herself a mistress of the art of triple tonguing. She was encored several times.

Miss Reynolds is the fortunate possessor of a rich mezzo soprano voice of rare sweetness. Her songs were applauded to the echo, and she also was several times recalled.

Herr Levy, who played all the accompaniments, is a pianist of marked ability.

Taken all in all it is the best aggregation of musicians that has ever visited here.

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.
A certain young lady of Winnsboro whose character is unimpeachable and who is in every respect a lady, has been made the victim of a most outrageous newspaper blunder. The young lady in question spent several months with relatives in the northern portion of the State, this summer. While in the railroad depot one day with some of her friends one of the young gentlemen a Mr. Steele, of Catawba, jokingly proposed that the young lady in question and himself be married. In order to carry out the joke he gave her consent and the mock ceremony was performed by Mr. Massey, another one of the party, and there the matter was allowed to drop, but unfortunately the King's Mountain News, evidently thirsting for something sensational got hold of it and published a lot of stuff about the unpleasant predicament in which Mr. Steele, who had a short time after this incident, married a young lady from Rock Hill, found himself owing to the fact that Mr. Massey who had performed the bogus ceremony was a notary public and that the marriage was really perfectly valid. The fact of the matter is this:
Mr. Massey was not a notary public nor has he ever held any civil office in this State, so that the report published in the King's Mountain paper and copied in several other journals is an untrue one. All the parties concerned have been caused very much needless trouble and embarrassment, but as the matter is now unquestionably decided and the marriage of the state established we suppose the matter will rest here.

UPPER LONGTOWN ITEMS.
LONGTOWN, S. C., Nov. 13.—Special:
The greater part of the cotton crop has been gathered in this section, and with the small crop and low prices the outlook is discouraging to the farmers. Several large and killing frosts have been in this section since my last report.

Those who attended the Institute from this community expressed themselves as highly pleased with it and surprised that Fairfield could have such a display.

Mr. Dunn's essay is certainly an able paper and ought to be read by every farmer in the land.

Mr. J. Sanders, of West Waterlee, killed an immense eagle on Wateree River this week; it measured seven feet from tip to tip.

Mr. Eli Harrison is home from school sick with measles.

AN ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT.
BUCKHEAD, S. C., Nov. 19.—Special:
There was an enjoyable entertainment at the residence of Mrs. John C. Feaster Tuesday night last—a hot supper to raise funds for church purposes. About 80 was realized. Many fair Julietts and gallant Romeos were present and seemed to be swimming in glory. "Eyes looked into eyes with delight. Garnered with 'blushes' dropping slow the sweetest rain of good night.

A vast quantity of delicate edibles were spread before this select assembly and all seemed to say "hold, enough."

An attractive feature was a "grab bag," also a postoffice where soft and sentimental epistles were sold to the young people for 5 c. each.

Miss Addie Crosby was post mistress. Miss Minnie Suber had charge of the confectionary department and did credit to that position. She was decorated by a large number of the prettiest and most popular young lady present.

Miss Mary Withers and Dr. David Providence dispensed delightful music to the audience. If music had been the "food of love" many no doubt would have "suffered on its making."

It was with reluctance the assembly parted. All declared themselves pleased and pronounced the hot supper a perfect success. Let us have another.

AN APPEAL TO TEACHERS.
Messrs. Editors: We ask for space in your columns to again notify the teachers of our county that they are earnestly requested to meet in Winnsboro on the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock a. m., to organize or reorganize the County Teachers' Association. It is perhaps superfluous to speak of their value and importance to wide-awake and progressive teachers. They form an important and essential part in our educational system and receive the qualified endorsement of all our best educators. We think they are a good index to the educational status of any community, thus reflecting creditably or otherwise upon those entrusted with the education of the youth of the land. So, fellow-teachers of Fairfield, if you have been derelict in your duty in this respect in the past, now is a fitting opportunity to redeem yourselves. It is left with you whether this effort shall be successful or not. You have a grave responsibility resting upon you as teachers, and I trust it is the heartfelt desire of all to so equip themselves as to best meet the important trust. This is an age of wonderful activity in every department of human labor; that of education being no exception—new books, new methods of teaching being the order of the day—so if we would keep in harmony with our surroundings we must avail ourselves of every possible means to meet these new requirements. We might say more on this important subject, but deem it unnecessary, believing that this short announcement is sufficient to enlist your hearty sympathy and co-operation. We hope to have the Superintendent of Education or some prominent educator to address the Association on that occasion.

OBITUARY.
Mrs. Nannie Lee McCullough, daughter of Mr. William T. and Mrs. Mattie M. McCrorey, of Gladden's Grove, Fairfield County, S. C., was happily married to Mr. William Pickett McCullough, of Catawba Falls, Chester County, S. C., February 11, 1891. She died in peace, after a short illness, November 2, 1891. She joined the Baptist Church at Mount Zion when eleven years of age and was a consistent member until death. She attended Greenville Female College and was well prepared, intellectually, for the duties of life. She possessed many rare qualities. In the several relations of life she always manifested the same gentle, kind, true, loving and grateful Christian spirit. In her death the relatives a loving sister, the community a treasure, and the Church a useful member. The writer, together with a large number of sorrowing friends, buried her at sundown at Bethesda Church. May God support and bring to glory the sorrowing relatives and friends.

Rocky Mount, S. C., Nov. 10, 1891.

Dr. G. W. Earle, Pickens, S. C., writes: "I recommended B. B. B. to a man who had suffered for years with a malignant ulcer on his leg, that seemed to resist all other treatment. After using four or five bottles of the cream, the ulcer began to heal and his leg is now sound and well."

Mrs. E. M. Lewis, Oxanna, Ala., writes: "For over twenty years I have suffered with headaches without relief from the many remedies and physicians tried during that period. Braxton's produces the most satisfactory results. It is almost as indispensable to my comfort as my food."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she became a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
